

ANG TSHERING SHERPA

Ang Tshering Sherpa also popularly known as Dawa Steven Sherpa is a Mountain guide and Adventure pioneer from Nepal. He is involved in various organizations and Projects related to mountain conservation and Mountaineering. He is also awarded various recognitions nationally and internationally for his efforts in the field.

The most important points that led me selecting him is his motives for cleaning the mountains of Nepal. Every year many tourist from around the world visit mount Everest and these results into piles of waste material left in mountains from gas cylinder to water bottle. As normal people living in low heights cannot even imagine to try mountaineering he has taken the lead of cleaning the mountains which is great in itself. Another point is his contributions towards glacier and nature conservation. Due to climate change mountains are melting twice fast as other region, he has been working with national and international organizations to bring this fact to the world and create awareness towards it.

References:

1. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l_eWMpoAywM
2. <http://www.asian-trekking.com/news-and-updates/item/277-young-nepalese-environmentalist-wins-prestigious-international-award.html>