

Oregon Green Schools

Saving resources, one school at a time

Oregon Green Schools located in Corvallis, USA is a good example of Sustainability teaching. They have good resources for sustainability teachings and annually they have some programs on sustainability.

At schools across Oregon, students, teachers and staff are making a difference in their communities with programs to recycle, reduce waste, save energy and conserve water.

Oregon Green Schools is helping with:

- Hands-on assistance
- Curriculum and funding resources
- Recognition and events

Oregon Green Schools is a nonprofit organization that was formed in 1997. They have over 25 regional coordinators throughout the state and nearly 300 participating schools.

The regional coordinators help schools conduct waste audits, provide guidance and training for new programs and recommend curriculum resources and grant opportunities.

Mission

Oregon Green School is dedicated to energizing and engaging students through student-driven activities that advance their understanding and ownership of sustainability.
